Welcome to the September issue of McGlory Fashion Magazine, “Women Trendsetters.”

From Egyptian Queens, to Greek Goddesses, the brave warriors, and rulers of the Middle Ages to the modern day political pioneers and powerful songstresses of the pop world, women have been dominating the front lines and back stages throughout history. It's no wonder women today are so inspired by the female leads of the past and present who have pioneered their professions, rules, influences, crafts, arts, and trades. This issue is dedicated to women who pushed to the brink of no return, overstepped their boundaries, faced obstacles, and overcame them.

They are resilient and refuse to take ‘no’ for an answer.

The women who are featured in the pages all have stories to tell. You look into their eyes and you can see their soul. It tells a story of determination, hard work, passion, and the drive that led them to where they are today. Saori Yamashita, a professional ballerina from Japan enchants us with her graceful moves, telling us stories through dance. Her performances are as breathtaking as looking into her eyes which speaks of a magical place in which only ballerinas can describe. Alexis Sheree, our featured cover model has a strong head on her shoulders and crushes negative comments in her hands, throws it, and steps on it with high-heeled stilettos. These women keep their head high and walk tall while remaining humble; just how a trendsetter should be. Leading women walk with the crowd, leading the pack and encouraging other women to do the same.

At MFM, we can spot a powerful woman from a mile away. It can be that extra stride in her walk, the gleam in her eyes, the sexy smirk in her smile, or the way she makes you feel when she talks to you with her hand on top of yours. The woman trendsetter is direct, headstrong, brilliant, and also kind, warm hearted, but doesn't take nonsense from anyone. They look out for others, not just themselves, and are opinionated, but give advice that will have an everlasting impression. There's an inner trendsetter in every woman, they don't follow the trend, they are the trend. Who run the world? Women. Paving the way for the generations ahead of them, we can hear these women saying, “love yourself, be true to yourself, and continue to evolve throughout time”.
